

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

The second edition of Miss Kroeger's Guide to the study and use of reference books was published in October, 1908, and included publications of the first part of that year. This first supplement covers the reference books of the two years 1909 and 1910 and includes also a very few books of 1908 which appeared too late in that year to be considered by Miss Kroeger for her revised list.

The present supplement includes the following classes of publications: (1) new books of 1909-1910, (2) new editions of works listed in the last edition of the Guide, (3) new volumes of unfinished works included in the Guide and (4) additional volumes of continuations which appear either irregularly or less often than once a year. New volumes of annuals which appear regularly have been taken for granted and are not included here. The new volumes covered by section 3 have been listed, because, as reference books are not infrequently published somewhat outside the regular trade channels, it is not always easy for the librarian to keep track of the latest new volume from the bibliographies accessible in the average library.

In general, the bibliographical form of the Supplement follows that of the Guide itself. Such minor differences as exist are mainly due to the fact that Library of Congress cards have been used as the bibliographic basis of the Supplement and the details of imprint, etc., have been taken from these cards. The arrangement of classes and subclasses of the Guide has been strictly adhered to.

PERIODICALS, ESSAYS, DEBATES, DISSERTATIONS

PERIODICALS

Readers' guide to periodical literature (cumulated). An index to 99 periodicals and also in the same alphabet to 430 books, reports, etc., constituting a supplement to the second edition of the A. L. Philadelphia-Free library. Supplement to a list of serials in the principal libraries of Philadelphia and vicinity, prepared by J. P. Lamberton. Philadelphia free library. 1910. (Bulletin no. 9)

It is also an index to published plays and the texts of dramas and synopses of plots. It covers the books as well as the periodical press of 1909."—Preface. Indexes some 150 American and English periodicals.

Quarterly lists with an annual cumulation published each January. The annual number consists of both an author and a subject index, the latter an alphabetical classed arrangement according to the system used by the West publishing company in the American and Decennial digests. The first annual number indexes 39 periodicals for 1908, the second 46 periodicals for 1909.

Library science

Cannons, H. G. T. Bibliography of library economy. A classified index to the professional periodical literature relating to library economy, printing, methods of publishing, copyright, bibliography, etc. Lond. Stanley Russell, 1910. 448 p. 7s. 6d.

"It now comprises over 15,000 entries arranged in classified logical sequence, under 1,900 subject headings, entries being placed in order of date to present the subject in its historical aspect; the whole being preceded by an elaborate and detailed scheme of classification, specially prepared for the work, and an alphabetical subject index comprising over 2,500 direct references. It thus forms a classified bibliography to all articles appearing in the professional publications during the period 1876-1909."—Preface.

NEWSPAPERS

Ayer's American newspaper annual, 1910. Phil. Ayer, 1910. $5.

Not a new work, but the 1910 issue differs from other earlier editions in that it is a consolidation of the American newspaper annual and Rowell's American newspaper directory. (Guide, p. 13.) This volume lists 24,089 publications, of which 2,000 are new.

Street's Pandex of the news, 1908. A cumulative index and digest of the newspapers of the United States, ed. and comp. by Arthur I. Street. Chic. Pandex co., 1909. 343 p. $10 w. subs. to mo. nos.

A minute subject index and digest of the events of the year, arranged alphabetically, and referring to date of the event, not to title or page of any special newspaper. The digest feature is sufficiently full to save reference to the newspapers themselves when only the main facts are wanted. While the index is not complete it is a more extensive list than either the Index to current events or the Index of dates in the Annual Library index. No volume for 1909 or 1910 has yet been issued.

GENERAL LITERATURE AND ESSAYS

Readers' guide (cumulated), 1905-1909.

DISSERTATIONS

Carnegie institution of Washington — Department of historical research. List of doctoral dissertations in progress, December, 1909. [Washington, D. C., 1909] 24 p. 23^{cm}.

Caption title: Doctoral dissertations already printed. This list includes names only which have appeared in previous "Lists of dissertations in progress," from 1897 to the present time, except that, Columbia having also sent titles from 1884 to 1897, and Harvard from 1876 to 1897, these have been included, p. 12-24.

Gives two separate lists: (1) Dissertations in progress but not completed, and (2) Dissertations recorded in earlier lists as in progress but since completed. First list arranged alphabetically by colleges, second by author.

ENCYCLOPEDIAS

AMERICAN

Appleton's new practical cyclopedia; a new work of reference based upon the best authorities, and systematically arranged for use in home and school, ed. by Marcus Benjamin. . . assisted by Arthur E. Bostwick. . . Gerald Van Casteel. . . George J. Hagar. . . with an introduction by Elmer Ellsworth Brown. N. Y. Appleton, 1910. 6v. illus. plates, (partly col.), maps. 25^{cm}. $18.

A small popular work, of use principally in the library which cannot afford one of the larger encyclopedias. Some inaccuracies have been pointed out.

ENGLISH

Encyclopædia Britannica; a dictionary of arts, sciences, literature and general information. Ed. 11. Camb. [Eng.] and N. Y. Univ. press, 1910. v. 1-14.

The most important reference book of 1910, to be completed in 29 volumes including an index volume. Based upon the 9th edition, 1875-88, and the supplementary 10th edition, 1902-03, but entirely revised and rearranged. The characteristic Britannica features of signed articles by specialists and full bibliographies are continued but the material is arranged by much smaller subjects, and the almost simultaneous publication of all volumes makes all parts of the alphabet equally well up-to-date. Biographies of living men are included and the treatment of American subjects is fuller than in earlier editions. Pronunciation is not marked, and all cross references are omitted from the body of the work, to be given in the index instead. Printed in two forms, on ordinary paper and on India paper. The India paper edition can not be recommended for library use on account of the tendency of the pages to cling together and fold. The ordinary paper edition is supplied in three special library bindings: buckram, A. L. A. specifications, $5 a vol.; half-morocco, Library Assoc. (Eng.) specifications, $5.50 a vol.; half-morocco, special Chivers binding, $5.75 a vol.

Routledge's every man's cyclopædia of biography, history, geography, general information, law, spelling, abbreviations, synonyms, pseudonyms, etc., etc.; ed. by Arnold Villiers. Lond. Routledge, N. Y. Dutton, 1910. 648 p. 20½^{cm}. 3s. 6d. $1.50.

A satisfactory small work of the "desk" or "hand-book of information" type.

PREFACE

This second supplement to Miss Kroeger's Guide to the study and use of reference books covers the years 1911, 1912 and 1913 and includes for that period (1) new books, (2) new editions of older works, (3) new volumes of unfinished works, and (4) new issues of continuations which appear either irregularly or less frequently than once a year. New issues of annuals have been taken for granted and have not been listed. The period limit has not been adhered to absolutely, however, but has been stretched to include a few titles published or distributed so late in 1910 as to have escaped mention in the first supplement, and four titles published early in 1914 but so closely connected either in form or subject with certain 1911-13 publications which had already been included that it seemed better to include the later works also. In the case of new volumes of sets, only the new volumes are listed if the preceding volumes have been included in the Guide, but in a few cases where the earlier volumes had been omitted from the Guide a record of the complete set has been included either in the main entry or in the annotation. It is hoped that the usefulness of the record of these few titles which fall outside the 1911-1913 limit will be sufficient to make up for the inconsistency of their inclusion.

PERIODICALS

GENERAL INDEXES

The indexing of general periodicals is now on a very different basis from what it was two years ago. Poole's index, (Guide, p. 7), and its annual supplement as published in the Annual library index (Guide, p. 7-8) have been discontinued and the indexing of books and periodicals so long carried on by the latter work is now being continued by an expansion of the Readers' guide (Guide, p. 8, Suppl. 1909-10, p. 7) which, beginning with 1913 appears in two sections, the Readers' guide, and the Readers' guide supplement, described below. The Readers' guide now indexes 90 periodicals and the Readers' guide supplement indexes 54, making a total of 144 as against the 148 formerly indexed by the Readers' guide and the American library index. There has, however, been a redistribution of titles. Of the 116 periodicals indexed in the Annual library index for 1910, 52 are now indexed in the Readers' guide, 23 in the Readers' guide supplement, 15 in the Annual magazine subject index, 3 in the Book review digest, and 2 in the Industrial arts index, while 21 have been dropped altogether and their places taken by other titles which seem to promise greater usefulness. The annual list of bibliographies and certain other features of the Annual library index are continued in the new American library annual, and the section on dates so long a useful feature of the American library index is continued by the Index to dates. For description of the American library annual see p. 38; for the Index to dates, see p. 9.

Readers' guide to periodical literature: Supplement. An author and subject index to general periodicals not included in the Readers' guide, 1913. . . . White Plains, N. Y. Wilson, 1913. 050

Annual cumulation $7. Subscription price varies according to number of periodicals taken. Apply to publisher.

Bi-monthly, cumulating throughout the year. Follows the same system of indexing as the Readers' guide, indexing, Jan.-Nov., 1913, some 54 periodicals and 19 books. Material indexed is less popular in character than that included in the Readers' guide.

UNION LISTS

Toronto university—Library. Joint catalogue of the periodicals, publications and transactions of societies, and other books published at intervals to be found in the various libraries of the city of Toronto. Toronto, Univ. press, 1913. 112 p. 25^{cm}. 016.05

An alphabetical list with exact indication of files of the serials, exclusive of public documents, that are to be found in eleven Toronto libraries.

Zeitschriften-verzeichnis der schweizerischen bibliotheken. Catalogue des périodiques reçus par les bibliothèques suisses, 1911. 2. auf. Zurich, Vereinigung schweiz. biblloth. 1912. 25^{cm}. 311 p. 4.20m. 016.05

An alphabetical title list, with indexes of place and personal names, of the current serials received Jan. 1, 1911 in 225 Swiss libraries. Marks complete sets but does not give statement of broken files. In an American library this list is useful principally for the verification of titles of foreign periodicals, especially Swiss periodicals.

GENERAL LISTS

Royal society of London. Catalogue of the periodical publications in the library. Ox. Univ. press, 1912. 445 p. 26^{cm}. 15s. 016.05

Includes all serials in the library Dec. 31, 1911. A title list of 1,811 serial publications, arranged alphabetically by first word of title not an article. Gives place and dates of publication, statement of the society's files, changes in titles, series and, in case of proceedings of meetings and congresses, a list of places at which the various meetings were held. Society index, p. 285-455. Useful in verifying titles, especially titles of foreign publications.

FOREIGN

Bibliographie der fremdsprachigen zeitschriftenliteratur, 1911-13, v. 1-7. Gautzsch, Dietrich, 1911-14. 7 v. 26^{cm}. (Internationale bibliographie der zeitschriftenliteratur, Abteilung B). 30m. per vol. 050

Similar in general plan and arrangement to the Bibliographie der deutschen zeitschriftenliteratur which now forms Abteilung A of the Internationale bibliographie. Indexes periodicals and general works in English and all the principal foreign languages except German. In the English and American library the principal use of this index will probably be for the large amount of French material indexed.

DUTCH

Nijhoff's index op de nederlandse periodieken van algemeenen inhoud, bewerkt door A. J. Van Huffel, jr, v. 1-4. 's-Gravenhage, Nijhoff, 1910-1912. 4 v. Annual subs. 1.50 fl. 053

v. 1, Sept. 1909-Dec. 1910; v. 2, 1911; v. 3, 1912; v. 4, 1913.

Monthly index to 49 general periodicals, including a few newspapers. No annual cumulations. Each number contains authors and subjects in one alphabet with a separate list of book reviews at the end. Useful in the very large library, or in the smaller library which specializes in Dutch material.

NORWEGIAN

Deichmanske bibliotek. Register til norges tidsskrifter, v. 1-2. Christiania, Cammeyer, 1908-1911. 2 v. 8 kr. 058

Contents: v. 1, Topografi; v. 2, Norsk biografi.

Arranged by subject, each volume indexing one subject. v. 1 (1908) indexes the topographical articles in 75 periodicals of varying dates from about the beginning of the 19th century to 1907; v. 2 indexes the biographical articles in more than 700 periodicals of the 19th and the first part of the 20th century. The list of periodicals included in v. 2 furnishes a nearly complete bibliography of Norwegian periodicals. Very valuable in the large reference library or in the library specializing in Scandinavian material.

Bimonthly index, cumulating throughout the year, with the December number forming an annual cumulation. More useful than the Engineering index in the general library or for quick reference.

SWEDISH

Nelson, Axel Herman. Akademiska afhandlingar vid Sveriges universitet och högskolor läsårén 1890/91-1909/10 jämte förteckning öfver svenscars akademiska afhandlingar vid utländska universitet under samma tid. Bibliografi, af Axel Nelson. Uppsala, Almqvist, 1911. 149 p. 24^{cm}. 378.485

In two parts, an author list and a subject list. The author list is printed also in Uppsala universitets, Arsskrift, 1911, v. 2.

Americana; a universal reference library comprising the arts and sciences, literature, history, biography, geography, commerce, etc., of the world. Editor-in-chief: Frederick Converse Beach, N. Y. Scientific American comp. co., 1912. 22 v. illus. pl. por. maps. 26^{cm}. $122. 031

Printed principally from the same plates as the edition of 1903-06, (Guide, p. 21) but with new articles and illustrations added, and some changes in the older articles to include events since 1903 and add a few recent bibliographical references. New articles added are largely in the field of science and technology.

Champlin, John Denison. The young folks' encyclopedia of persons and places. 6th ed. rev. N. Y. Holt, 1911. 1105 p. illus. $3. J031

Earlier editions, Guide, p. 22. This new edition adds about 1,000 new titles (150 p.) to the 5th ed., 1906.

ENGLISH

Encyclopædia Britannica; a dictionary of arts, sciences, literature, and general information. 11th ed. v. 15-29. Camb. [Eng.] & N. Y. Univ. press, 1911. 15 v. illus. pl. (partly col.) maps. 30^{cm}. 032

Complete set, Amer. ed. cloth $130.50; half mor. $166.75.

For note on v. 1-14 see Suppl. 1909-10, p. 9. The later volumes complete the alphabet and furnish a very detailed index volume, v. 29. In general the articles are excellent but a few show insufficient revision, especially in the matter of bibliographies, and the index volume must be used constantly, as all cross references from headings, i. e. the "see" references, are omitted in the main alphabet and given only in the index, although "see also" references are given at the ends of articles. There are minor differences between the English and the American edition, e. g., the English edition has clearer impressions of most of the illustrations, especially the plates, and the American edition gives for American cities the statistics of the 1910 census instead of the figures of the 1900 census given in the English edition. The binding recommended for library use is the special Chivers niger-morocco binding of the English edition.

Britannica year-book, 1913, a survey of the world's progress since the completion in 1910 of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, 11th ed. Lond. & N. Y. Encyc. Brit. co., 1913. 1226 p. 23^{cm}. 10s. $2.25. 032

Not alphabetical, but arranged in chapters on large subjects with a minute alphabetical index. Excellent articles, good bibliographies. Unfortunately published only in India paper edition. Supplements current biographical dictionaries by furnishing obituary lists for Australia, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Egypt, France, Germany, Great Britain, Holland, India, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Newfoundland, Russia, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United States.

Everyman encyclopædia, ed. by Andrew Boyle. Lond. Dent, N. Y., Dutton, [1913]. 12 v. illus. 17^{cm}. 12s. $4.20; lib. binding 18s. $6. 032

A good small encyclopedia for the private library or small library which cannot afford a larger work. The articles are concise and generally accurate, although American subjects are treated somewhat less adequately than English. Bibliographies often omitted but when given are generally good. Few illustrations.

FRENCH

Larousse, Pierre Athanase. Larousse mensuel illustré, revue encyclopédique universelle, pub. sous la direction de Claude Augé, 1907-13. Paris, Larousse, [1907-13]. 2 v. illus. 32^{cm}. 9 fr. per year. 034

v. 1, 1907-10; v. 2, 1911-13.

An excellent monthly supplement to the Nouveau Larousse (Guide, p. 24), with the same size and style of page, and same type of articles and illustrations. Each monthly number is alphabetical, there are annual indexes for each year, to be used until a volume is completed, and a final alphabetical index for each volume. Articles are well up to date and numbers are issued promptly. Best work for contemporary French biography.

GERMAN

v. 1, A-D.

An excellent small encyclopedia for the public library with an Italian clientèle or for the college library used by students beginning the study of Italian. Includes biographies of living men.

SPANISH

Enciclopedia universal ilustrada Europeo-Americana, v. 1-17. Barcelona, Espasa y Hijos, 1906-13. 17 v. illus. pl. (partly col.) maps. 26^{cm}. 27 ptas. per vol. 036

v. 1-17, A-Deil.

A useful encyclopedia for the very large reference or special library. It has long articles, bibliographies, many good illustrations and maps, and includes many short articles on very small subjects. Special features are the many maps, geographical, geological, historical and statistical, the numerous plans of even small cities, colored plates of uniforms, flags, coins, etc., of each country, and the many reproductions of paintings and other works of art given usually under title and sometimes under the artist's name.

A thorough revision of the original edition (Guide p. 26.), printed from new plates throughout, with all words, including the proper names, etc., which were formerly given in supplementary lists, now arranged in one alphabet, except the foreign words and phrases which are still separate. For each word the present day usage and meaning are given first, followed by the historical and etymological information. The most complete and up-to-date of the one volume dictionaries and so sometimes the most useful, especially for quick reference, for present day usage, etc., but less accurate and scholarly than Webster's new international dictionary. Gives antonyms as well as synonyms. Appendix contains: Disputed pronunciations. Rules for simplified spelling. Glossary of foreign words and phrases. Statistics of population. History of the world told day by day.

Webster, Noah. Webster's new international dictionary of the English language. Sprgr. [Mass.] Merriam, 1911. lxxx, 2620, 152 p. illus. pl. (partly col.) 31^{cm}. (Reference history ed.) $12. 423

Roget, Peter Mark. Thesaurus of English words and phrases, fully revised by Andrew Boyle. Lond. Dent, N. Y. Dutton [1913] 2 v. 17^{cm}. (Everyman's library) 1s. 35 cts.; library binding 1s. 6d. 50 cts. 424 certain Americanisms upon historical principles. Lond. Francis. Phil. Lippincott, 1912. 2 v. 22^{cm}. 30s. $7. 427.9

Includes forms of speech now obsolete or provincial in England which survive in U. S., words and phrases of distinctly American origin, nouns which indicate quadrupeds, birds, trees, etc., that are distinctly American, names of persons, of classes of people and of places, words that have assumed a new meaning, words and phrases of which there are earlier examples in American than in English writers.

The list of words is largely historical and includes little modern American slang. For each word there is given a definition and explanation and illustrative quotations arranged chronologically with references to sources. The most important dictionary of American slang yet published.

DIALECT

Pettman, Charles. Africanderisms; a glossary of South African colloquial words and phrases, and of places and other names. Lond. & N. Y. Longmans, 1913. 579 p. 23^{cm}. $3.50 427.9

Good definitions. Illustrative quotations are given with date and exact page reference.

GREEK

Edwards, Gerald Maclean. English-Greek lexicon. Camb. [Eng.] Univ. press, 1912. 332 p. 21^{cm}. 7s. 6d. 483.2

An excellent small dictionary. This work and the somewhat larger dictionary by Woodhouse (Lond. Routledge, 1910) practically supersede Yonge's English-Greek lexicon (Guide, p. 30).

IRISH

Marstrander, Carl J. S. Dictionary of the Irish language, based mainly on Old and Middle Irish materials, pub. by the Royal Irish Academy, fasc. 1—. Dublin, Royal Irish Acad. [1913] 1 fasc. 29^{cm}. 8s. 6d. per fasc. 491.62

Fasc. 1, D-degáir.

The authoritative dictionary of the Irish language, based on materials collected for many years by the Academy from printed books, manuscripts and the spoken language. Arranged on historical principles with many quotations illustrating the development both of meanings of words and of their grammatical inflexions. Begins with the letter D, leaving A-C to be published last, because the letters A-Dn were covered in Kuno Meyer's Contributions to Irish lexicography (1907) of which this new dictionary is a continuation. To be completed in three volumes of about 1,000 pages each.

SPECIAL SUBJECTS

PHILOSOPHY

Eisler, Rudolph. Handwörterbuch der philosophie. Berl. Mittler, 1913. 801 p. 23^{cm}. 17.50m. 103

A condensation and popularization of his Wörterbuch der philosophischen begriffe, utilizing also some material from his Philosophen-Lexikon. An excellent small work, useful where short, concise articles are wanted, but not a substitute in a college library for his two larger works.

— Philosophen-Lexikon; leben, werke und lehren der denker. Berl. Mittler, 1912. 889 p. 23^{cm}. 18.50m. 103

Biographical dictionary of philosophers, ancient and modern, giving main facts of life, account of system and list of works by and about each man. Includes living names.

— Wörterbuch der philosophischen begriffe. 3. völlig neubearb. aufl. Berl. Mittler, 1910. 3 v. 23^{cm}. 35m. 103

Scholarly articles, with bibliographies on philosophical concepts and terms, tracing their use, meanings and treatment through the writings of the philosophers and giving many references to sources. For the specialist; not the general reader. Bibliography, p. 1980-2076.

A French work similar to the above but less valuable for the historical side, is the fine Vocabulaire technique et critique de la philosophie, prepared by various members of the Société française de philosophie, which is in process of publication in the Bulletin of the Société. Sections covering the alphabet A-Personnel, have been published and may be found in the following numbers of the Bulletin:—2:165-235, 3:177-205, 4:179-220, 5:193-248, 6:291-338, 7:311-42, 8:297-345, 9:235-80, 10:159-212, 11:133-96, 12:227-78.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

A new annual bibliography which does for the field of philosophy what the Psychological index does for psychology is Philosophie der gegenwart (Heidelberg, Weiss, 1911-13.) Three volumes have been published so far, covering the years 1908-09, 1910 and 1911, respectively. Each volume includes both book and periodical literature in all the principal languages and contains a title list of philosophical periodicals with critical annotations which indicate the special features and purpose of each periodical. Includes less English than foreign material.

An excellent new annual bibliography for French publications on philosophy is the Bibliographie de la philosophie française, which has been published annually since 1910 as no. 8 of the Bulletin de la Société française de philosophie. It is a classified list with name index, and lists the book publications of the year and indexes the philosophical articles in over 200 French and Belgian periodicals.

RELIGION

Encyclopædia of religion and ethics, ed. by James Hastings, with the assistance of John A. Selbie, and other scholars, v. 3-6. Edin. Clark, N. Y. Scribner, 1911-12. 4 v. illus. pl. 29^{cm}. 28s. per vol. $7. per vol. 203

v. 3-6. Burial—Hyksos. For note on v. 1-2 see Suppl. 1909-10, p. 10.

Schaff, Philip. The new Schaff-Herzog encyclopedia of religious knowledge, v. 9-12. N. Y. Funk [c1911-12] 4 v. $5. per vol. 203

v. 9-12. Petri—Zwingli; apx. For v. 1-8 see Guide, p. 32-33; Suppl. 1909-10, p. 10.

This encyclopedia, now that it is completed, forms the most important general reference book on its subject in English, superseding the older work by M'Clintock and Strong (Guide, p. 32), except for an occasional special article. Based upon the 3d ed. of the Herzog-Hauck-Real-encyklopädie, and so Protestant in tone, but not biased. Is not a mere translation of the German work, however, as much of the material has been condensed, fresh material added and the bibliographies extended and improved. Is not limited to the Christian religion but includes articles on other religions and religious leaders. Covers the whole field of biblical, historical and contemporary theology, church history and religious biography, including separate articles on all sects, denominations and churches, organizations and societies, missions, doctrines, controversies, etc. Biographical notices include those of men still living. The strongest feature of the work is the bibliographical feature which is in three forms—(1) an excellent general bibliographical survey, with critical comment, in the preface (xii-xxiv), (2) the bibliographical appendix at the beginning of each volume which gives recent literature, and (3) the fine bibliographies appended to each article.

Schiele, Friedrich Michael. Die religion in geschichte und gegenwart. Handwörterbuch in gemeinverständlicher darstellung, v. 3-5. Tübingen, Mohr, 1912-13. 3 v. illus. pl. 28^{cm}. 26m. per vol. 203

v. 5 completes the alphabet, but an index volume is still to be published. For v. 1-2 see Suppl. 1909-10, p. 10.

Signed articles written by specialists from an advanced point of view; full bibliographies. Cross references in the main alphabet refer to treatment of small subjects in articles on larger subjects. Many biographical articles, including articles on men still living.

The most extended modern work of reference in the field of religion is the great French series now in course of publication under the general title Encyclopédie des sciences religieuses, composed of the following separate works:

1. Dictionnaire d'archéologie chrétienne, by Cabrol; Dictionnaire d'histoire et de géographie ecclésiastiques, by Baudrillart; Dictionnaire de théologie catholique, by Vacant and Mangenot; Dictionnaire de la Bible by Vigouroux; and Dictionnaire du droit canonique, (this last in preparation but not yet published). Parts of this series contain the finest material on the subject published in any language and the work as a whole represents the highest level of French Catholic scholarship. The price of the sets puts them beyond the reach of the small or medium sized library and the work is too special to be of much use except in a theological library, a large general reference library or a library which specializes in mediaeval and ecclesiastical history and literature. For historical subjects the two dictionaries by Cabrol and Baudrillart are the most useful of the series. For fuller description see below and also p. 15.

Baudrillart, Alfred. Dictionnaire d'histoire et de géographie ecclésiastiques, par Alfred Baudrillart, Albert Vogt et Urbain Rouziès, v. 1. Paris. Letouzey, 1912. 1742 p. illus. maps. 28^{cm}. 5 fr. per fasc. 203

Publication in fascicles was begun in 1908; v. 1 was completed in 1912, and four fascicles of v. 2 have been issued also, completing about half of the letter A, to Ampère. Scope of work covers all subjects in history of the Roman Catholic church, and other churches as they affect the Roman church, from the beginning of Christianity to the present time. The geographical material includes separate articles on towns and other small divisions, past and present, indicating the connection of the place with ecclesiastical history, its present ecclesiastical status, a list of its religious institutions, and, in case it is or has been an episcopal see, a list of the bishops, etc. There are biographical articles on all important and some minor names in the Roman Catholic church, members of other churches who have had any effect on the Roman church, all ecclesiastical and theological writers, saints in the Russian and other churches, ecclesiastical musicians, artists, etc. Signed articles, good bibliographies.

Cabrol, Fernand. Dictionnaire d'archéologie chrétienne et de liturgie, v. 1-2, 3, (9 fasc.) Paris, Letouzey, 1907-13. 3 v. illus. pl. (some col.) maps. 28^{cm}. 5 fr. per fasc. 203

Fasc. 1-31, A—Communion.

Excellent signed articles, with full bibliographies, on institutions, manners and customs of primitive Christianity, on the architecture, Christian art, iconography, symbols, epigraphy, paleography, numismatics, liturgy, rites and ceremonies of the early church to the time of Charlemagne. Covers about the same ground as Smith's Dictionary of Christian antiquities but with fuller and more up to date treatment. Excellent illustrations, including facsimiles of codices, etc.

Wace, Henry and Piercy, William C. Dictionary of Christian biography and literature to the end of the sixth century A. D., with an account of the principal sects and heresies. Lond. Murray, Boston, Little, 1911. 1028 p. 24^{cm}. 21s, $8. 203

A revised and abridged ed. of Smith's Dictionary of Christian biography (Guide, p. 33). Adds later references and puts the articles more abreast of modern scholarship but does not supersede Smith, which must still be used for long articles, for minor names and for subjects of the 7th and 8th centuries, as this new edition covers only the first six centuries.

ECCLESIASTICAL TERMS

Bumpus, John S. Dictionary of ecclesiastical terms, being a history and explanation of certain terms used in architecture, ecclesiology, liturgiology, music, ritual, cathedral construction, etc. Lond. Laurie, 1910. 323 p. 22^{cm}. 21s; cheaper ed. 1914, 6s. 203

Gives definitions, short encyclopedic articles and some bibliographies. Principally terms of the Church of England, with some terms of the Roman Catholic and Greek churches.

BIBLE DICTIONARIES

Vigouroux, F. Dictionnaire de la Bible, contenant tous les noms de personnes, de lieux, de plantes, d'animaux mentionnés dans les Saintes Écritures, les questions théologiques, archéologiques, scientifiques, critiques relatives à l'Ancien et au Nouveau Testament et des notices sur les commentateurs anciens et modernes. v. 5. Paris, Letouzey, 1912. 2550 p. illus. 28^{cm}. 220.3

5 v. 190 fr.

v. 5 completes the set, covering the letters Pe-Z. 1-4 publ. in pts. 1895-1908 (2d impression 1907-).

The standard Bible dictionary from the French Catholic point of view, containing long signed articles by Catholic scholars, good bibliographies and excellent illustrations. Differs from Hastings' Dictionary of the Bible and the Encyclopædia biblica in several points, notably in the inclusion of separate biographical articles, with bibliographies, on the various commentators on the Bible, ancient and modern, Catholic, Protestant and Jewish.

"The volumes numbered I-XI, constituting the complete reports of the census, are being issued in a very limited edition, intended chiefly for libraries, institutions and special students of statistics.

"A condensed report, entitled Abstract of the census, has been printed in a much larger edition, intended for more general distribution and prepared in such a way as to meet the needs of most persons. . . It contains in tabular form all important census statistics for the U. S. as a whole and for each state and principal city, together with a brief text explaining their meaning. The Abstract therefore, is a condensation of the complete census reports, both tables and text, and not merely a compilation of tables.

"The Abstract is issued in special editions for each of the several states, each edition containing a supplement giving the detailed statistics for counties, cities, and other civil divisions of the state to which it relates, designed to meet the needs of persons resident in that state or especially interested in it. The supplement contains also both tables and text.

"As a compact reference book . . . the Abstract is more convenient for most persons than the voluminous final reports." Announcement, 13th Census, v. 11.

Each library should secure the Abstract in the special edition for its own state. The supplements of state statistics are also issued separately in pamphlet form. The large library will find it convenient to secure all of these and bind them up alphabetically, thus securing an arrangement of the complete statistics by states, as well as the arrangement by large subjects given in v. 1-11 of the Reports. Supplements omit occupation statistics.

YEAR-BOOKS

AMERICAN

v. 1 ed. by S. N. D. North, v. 2 by F. G. Wickware, under the general direction of a supervisory board representing some 38 learned societies.

An excellent new year-book, made up of long signed articles by specialists. The two latest volumes in the monumental dictionary of French place names which has been in process of publication, one volume for each département, since 1861. Each volume lists all place names of its département, even names of farms, giving for each its location, derivation, variations in form from the earliest period to the present with date when each form was used and exact references to manuscripts or printed authorities, and, in the case of important names, a brief history and description of the place. Entry in the dictionary proper is under the modern form of name and cross references from old forms are given in a table of ancient forms at the end of the volume.

Of the whole set, 27 vols. have been published to date: Earlier vols. are: Aisne, by A. Matton, 1871; Alps (Hautes), by J. Roman, 1884; Aube, by Th. Boutot and E. Socard, 1874; Calvados, by C. The best dictionary of Irish place names, giving for each name its location, derivation, meaning, and an explanation of the meaning where necessary, vols. 1-2, published 1869-71, were treatises, arranged in chapters with alphabetical indexes, but v. 3 is a regular dictionary list. As v. 3 does not duplicate many of the names in v. 1-2, use must still be made of the earlier volumes.

A fine work, of less frequent use in an American library than the Street directory of the principal cities of the U. S. (Wash. 1908), but useful occasionally to verify names of streets for correspondence, and to look up streets mentioned in works of literature, etc.

AMERICAN

Rand, McNally & co., pub. Library atlas of the world, containing over 200 maps and a complete index. Chic. Rand[1912] 2 v. 53^{cm}. cloth $25. half mor. $30. 912

v. 1, United States; v. 2, Foreign countries.

A revised edition of their Indexed atlas of the world (Guide, p. 85). For each territorial division included there is a topographical and a relief map. In the U. S. volume an index accompanies each map, giving population figures, and in the volume for foreign countries there is a general alphabetical index. Special features are the list of all electric lines in the U. S. and the similar lists for each state. The maps are not very good and inaccuracies have been pointed out, but the atlas is useful because of the large scale of the maps.

Rand, McNally & co., pub. Commercial atlas of America. 3d ed. Chic. Rand. 1913. 449 p. incl. col. maps. 52^{cm}. $15. 912

Century atlas of the world, revised and enlarged. N. Y. Century co. [1911] 431 p. 118 maps. 912

Forms v. 12 of the Century dictionary and encyclopedia; not sold separately.

Earlier ed. Guide, p. 86. Originally published in 1897 and revised several times, especially in 1899 and 1901. New maps in the present edition are: Alaska; Canada (3 maps); Oklahoma; South Polar regions, with exploration routes; and two maps showing development of inter-urban electric lines in the U. S. Other maps have been corrected, new place names added, and the index entirely reset and supplied with the 1910 census figures. Except when a large scale map is needed the Century atlas is generally more satisfactory than the Rand, McNally atlas.

Hammond, C. S. & co. Hammond's commercial and library atlas of the world, based upon official surveys, with ready reference marginal indices together with a new postal and shipping guide of the United States, a new descriptive gazetteer of the cities of the world, and a new atlas of cities. N. Y. Hammond, 1911. 496 p. 134 maps. 34^{cm}. $10. 912

Useful because the maps of the states show the congressional districts; otherwise inferior to the Rand, McNally atlas and the Century atlas. Contains some maps of cities not included in the other atlases.

v. 1, Lists of Congressional and departmental publications.

"The first systematic attempt to include within the limits of one publication an approximately complete check list of all public documents issued by the United States government during the first century and a quarter of its history."—Preface.

The preface contains a list and description of previous indexes and catalogs of U. S. documents. This edition replaces the 2d ed. of the Checklist and the tables of the Tables and index, but does not yet supplant the index of the Tables and index. An index volume is to be published later.
